Two Generations of First-Gen Stories: What Has Changed and What Has Not

Rosaria Pipitone, M.A., CDFI
Associate Director, Career Readiness
Office of Career Advancement

Tommy Choi
Student Worker

Learning Objectives

1. To identify work, education, support systems and cultural values as they pertain to first-generation individuals.
2. To identify common themes among our stories.
3. To discuss ways we can support each other.

Disclaimer:

This presentation is not intended for the audience to view us as victims of our upbringing. We are simply telling our stories with the hope to highlight commonalities among first generation individuals.

POLL TIME

What is the first word or phrase that comes to mind when you hear “first generation”?

Difference in first-gen terms:

First-gen College Student

- A student whose parent(s)/legal guardian(s) have not completed a bachelor's degree
- First in the family to attend a four-year college/university

First-gen American

- An immigrant who was born in another country and has become a citizen or permanent resident in a new country
- Can also refer to the child of such an immigrant

TOMMY'S STORY (GEN Z)

Born in Kwangju, South Korea

My mom and my aunt!

Trinitas Medical Mentorship Program

ROSARIA'S STORY (MILLENNIAL)

Perspectives: work, education, support and cultural values

Women  $\neq$  Education

Lack of knowledge

More limited career choices

Career choices depended on work schedule

Good school district

No idea how to navigate

Decisions driven by financial needs

Lack of resources

Lessened sense of security/stability

Independent from young age

Support

Heavily relied on friends and professional staff

No one in family had career ambitions

Family is always #1

Sacrifice is second nature

Strong work ethic

Strong career ambitions:
parents' retirement plan

Success = financial stability

Degree = $$$

Barrier between other
Italian women in family

Success = financial stability

Different definitions of success

DISCUSSION

Q: How has your perspective on first-gen students expanded, if at all?

Q: How do you think you can provide additional support for first-gen students?
