Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgement and with my skills and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by art cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

In the presence of this gathering I bind myself to this oath.
Dean's Message

TO THE Class of 2004

Congratulations to you- the UMDNJ-School of Osteopathic Medicine Class of 2004! I am very proud of each one of you for achieving this milestone. I hope you look back on your time at UMDNJ-SOM with fond memories of student life, your fellow graduates, the faculty, learning and ultimately earning your Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree. Even though graduation officially marked the end of your medical school career, it is truly a beginning; a new stage of your life where you will apply your unique skills to relieve suffering and always, continue to learn. Regardless of the discipline or area of medicine you aspire to practice, be passionate about learning and most importantly, committed to teaching.

You have embarked on your medical career during the most extraordinary time in the history of medicine. Not only will you benefit from having received your medical education and training at the nation’s finest Osteopathic Medical School, but you will also benefit from the abundance of research, invention, and technology that is available today to eradicate disease and prevent illness more effectively than ever.

Regrettably, the number of health conditions that face our world grows each year; there are new "man-made" health threats such as biological agents as well as natural born diseases such as SARS that require a swift and decisive response by the health community. As the first-line of defense for the public health, you will be challenged to continue to learn about these emerging risks.

Remember always, no drug can replace the empathy and healing hands of a well-trained, attentive and dedicated physician. Each time you don your white coat, you are accepting the responsibility to carry out the work that you committed yourself to during your White Coat Ceremony. I know that you have been fully prepared to meet every challenge and possess the knowledge and skills to achieve all of your goals.

It has been my privilege and honor to have been afforded this opportunity to serve you. On behalf of the administration, I welcome you to the Alumni Association and trust that you will always consider yourself an important part of our growing family of physicians.

Congratulations to you and best wishes in all of your professional endeavors.

To my family:
You have supported me through my entire academic career, from my first day of kindergarten to my last day of medical school. You are my strength. Thank you for all your love and encouragement. Mom and dad, you’re the greatest!

To Gary:
There were places in my heart I’d never been before, moments in the day I’d never appreciated before, a happiness in my life I’d never felt before. Until now. Until you. You have given me a joy beyond words and a love that everyone hopes to find. I will forever be grateful.

To my friends and classmates:
Thanks for all the laughs and the memories. These were difficult years, but I never had to struggle alone. Katherine, yes we’re friends! Ajanta, hey roomie!
First I must give glory to God for making this dream a reality. My success would not have been possible without the immense and unalloyed support of my family, whom I had put through tremendous difficulties during the past four years.

To my "most Beloved, Beautiful and Cheerful wife" - Angela - I thank you most sincerely from the bottom of my heart. I know it had not been easy taking care of our four young children while maintaining a full-time job. It only takes a "great lioness" like you. My pledge is to continue to love and cherish you all the days of my life.

To my wonderful children - Chidinma, Chidera, Nnana and Uche - I thank you All for being very understanding and supportive.
Mom and Dad,
Thanks. I appreciate everything you have done for me.

Diane,
Can you believe it has been four years? From the first day of school to the last, thanks for being there.

Rolande,
My extra-curricular buddy, It’s been fun. Yes we really are friends.
To my parents, words cannot describe the gratitude that I have for you. Dad, I know you are looking down over me. Thank you for teaching me never to give up on my dreams. Mom, thank you for all your love and support. Without it, medical school have been much more difficult.

Avani: Thank you for being there every step of the way. Life has been amazing since the day I met you. I love you not only for who you are but who I am with you. Thank you for the endless love and support. I could not have done it without you.

To my brother: Thank you for all the sacrifice. I would not be in this position if it wasn’t for you. Thank you for everything.

Thank you to all whom allowed me to dream. Mom, Dad, Jeff, and Grandmom: Thank you for all the constant support and love. Everything good in me is a direct reflection of you. Chrissy: Thanks for putting up with all my craziness throughout the years and always being there for me. Marguerite and Danalisa: No amount of distance can damper our friendship. I am so glad that we always have each other to lean on. Maria and Chris: Who knew that medical school could be so much fun? Now, if only we spent half as much time studying as we did playing (no, mommy, no)! he he. Eric: I want you to know how much your love and support means to me. Every day you remind me of all the great things in life and how I am so lucky to be sharing them with you. Thank you.

I love you. Dana

I can’t thank my Dad enough for all that he did for me. First of all for being both a father and mother since my mother’s demise years ago, for being a constant source of inspiration and for his unwavering support in my pursuit of medical education. I dedicate my D.O. degree to my Dad who is no longer in this world to rejoice my accomplishment for which he was looking forward to.

I quote a Sanskrit saying from the great epic “Gita” in which my Dad ardently believed. “Karmany ev dhikar shu te m_ phaleshu kad_canam_karma phala hetur bh_r_m_te sangostry akarmani.” It translates as: “Seek to perform your duty; but lay not claim to its fruits. Be you not the producer of the fruits of karma, neither shall you lean towards inaction.”

I thank my husband, Narsimha, for his unconditional encouragement and advice.

My love, thanks, and admiration to my family and friends who have shared every laugh and tear with me over the past four years.

I especially thank my devoted parents, Mary Ann & Charles Cebula, who have taught me that dreams really do come true with time, patience, and perseverance. You have been role models of strength and courage, and more importantly, the compass for my "future roadmap." I am so blessed to have you as my parents.

I remember my deceased grandparents – Dominic Cianci, Helen Cebula, and Joseph Cebula. I know that you are looking down upon this moment with pride.

To my grandmother, Frances Cianci – thank you for your listening ear and your loving heart.

To Lord Jesus Christ: Thank you for giving me the strength and courage to persevere through these tough times. Without your Divine Influence, I am nothing. Please bless my family and loved ones, now and forever. Amen.

To My Mom and Dad: Thank you for everything. We have been through a lot over the years - without your help and support, I would have never made it. I promise to be there for you guys, always. I love you both very much!!

To My Soulmate, Bernadette: Thank you for making this last year the best one of my life. I love you with all my heart!! I'm so glad that God allowed us to find each other. I can't wait to begin our life together as one.

To the Class of 2004: We did it!! Let’s show this world what we got!

Thank you for your unconditional love and support throughout the years. Thank you for always believing in me and for encouraging me to strive for my dreams.

To Marco, my husband:
Thank you for your love and support. Thank you for always being there for me even when I am stressed out and not the nicest person to be around.

To my siblings - Charmaine, Jonelle, and George:
Thanks for being understanding throughout all my years in school.

To my niece and nephew:
Remember, always strive for your dreams and never let anyone tell you that cannot achieve your goals.
Thank you to all of my family and friends without whom I would not have been able to accomplish any of the goals that I set for myself. Thank you to my parents who have dedicated their life to me. Thank you to my sisters, my best friends, who have given me guidance and support. Thank you to my grandmother who taught me to be a kind, dedicated, and generous person. Thank you to my old and new friends who have shaped the person that I am today. Thank you to the professors and physicians who taught me the science and art of medicine. Without the support of my family and friends I would have been lost these past four years. Thank you mom and

To my brothers and family, thank you for dealing with my occasional attitudes and always having your doors open to me. To Joe, through it all you have been there for me, for that and so many other reasons thank you and I love you. To my oldest and dearest newest addition to my friends, my med school buddies, I will never forget you. To all of my loved ones, you are all dear to me and I will always hold you close to my heart.

To my fellow classmates I wish you all the best of luck for successful careers and fulfilling lives. God Bless.

I would like to thank my parents for all their support through the years. I would also like to thank my wife Tracey for being by my side from the very beginning. My gratitude also goes out to my Uncle Bob who’s confidence in me has been invaluable. Without Tracey and my family these four years would have been impossible. I decided four years ago to be a doctor, I made it half because I was willing to do whatever it took along the way, and half because there were many people who cared enough to help me. To all my classmates, I wish you the best of luck in all your endeavors.

They always stood by my side through all the difficult times and supported all my dreams and aspirations. It is because of them that I excelled in this world and became a well-rounded, well-educated individual. Everything I am today I owe to them. Mom, dad, grandma, I love you. Thank you for always being there for me.

I also would like to thank all the friends that I made here at UMDNJ-SOM for making these four years memorable and fun filled. Let’s not forget them. I wish you guys all the best. Sadia, it would not have been the same without you, I am lucky to have found such a great friend.
To Mom and Dad: Thank you so much for your endless love and support. You guys instilled in me strong family values, a goal oriented attitude, and above all the patience to be kind. I love you!

To Janet and Kent: The best siblings that a middle child could ask for. You guys are the best. Let’s stick together and we’ll always have fun.

To Winston: My little puppy. You bring a smile to me face and brighten my day.

To my classmates: We’ve done it! The hard work has finally paid off. The best of luck in all your future endeavors. Have fun, laugh every day, and thank god that we have the opportunity to save lives. See ya when I see ya.

To my wife, Janice: You are the love of my life. Thank you for being with me through the good and the bad.

I would like to thank my family for their tremendous support over the last 30 years and in particular the last four. To my wife, Vicky, whose love and support allowed me to complete this journey with my sanity intact. Our wonderful life together is just beginning. I love you with all my heart. To my grandparents, Pop and Grandma, whose unconditional love, compassion and generosity will forever shape me and inspire me to do my very best. Without you I would be nowhere. And to my sister, Coleen, who has always been there for me. I wish the very best for you, Dave and Little Dave. And to all of my lifelong friends, may we continue to share good times together.

My journey to medical school only took me 100 miles from home, yet in a way I have come further than I would have traveling thousands of miles. Thanks to everyone – all the amazing physicians, instructors and classmates – who has helped me grow along the way. To my most loving parents who were always there and supported me completely in all I aspired to achieve. To David, the person who understands me best, who embraces my independence and curiosity. To all of my wonderful friends at SOM – with a special thanks to Sabrina for all the great laughter (the best medicine); to Paige for your amazing listening abilities; to Kristen for those 3AM phone cram sessions and talks; to Robert for the NYC rides. To Luiza and Henning, for your nurturing nature and late night laughs. To Carolyn and Dionicia, for creating a sane refuge outside of medicine.

The greatest gratitude is for my late grandmother Klara, a superb cardiologist and a beautiful woman who was my guiding inspiration in becoming a physician.

Medical school has been the greatest challenge of my life to this point. Here we pushed ourselves to the limit, learning more than we ever thought possible. I would not have been able to endure the workload and stress without the support of family and friends. For this I offer my gratitude. Mom and Dad, thank you for all your loving care and support. You have raised me to be self-reliant yet trustful of others. I thank all my brothers and sisters, Redsie, Sue, John, Earl, Theresa, Pat, Rose, Jim, Holly, Joan, and Joe. Hal: Dokdare loo...it has been, and will always be...understood! No tooroffs here!

Dana, Chris and Ant: The last 4 years have been a total rollercoaster! We’ve shared our thoughts and fears, countless hours of laughter, and even tears. Just know, I am so grateful to have had you in my life during a time that could have been so lonely and turned out to be everything but!
I want to thank my family for their years of love and support. None of this would have been possible without your guidance and example. Thanks to my friends for always being ready to have a good time and reminding me there is life beyond medical school (never forget - 37, 27, 19, 48!!!). Thanks to my classmates for making the last four years unforgettable. Thanks to all the doctors I've worked with for taking the time to teach me from their years of experience. Finally, thanks to SOM for giving me what I had hoped for four years ago.

"This has been a life long pursuit and journey, and now I am almost at the end of the road. Mom and Dad, thank you for the sacrifices you made to give your children a better future; it has not gone unrecognized. Owano, you have followed me to unfamiliar territories unselfishly and lovingly. I want you to know that I will follow you to the ends of the earth. I love you and I love our life together. Lord you have brought me far, and to many high places. You continue to love me despite my shortcomings and my failures. You gave Your life to save me and so I give my life to serve you. Thank you for allowing me to do it through medicine."

I, like many of you, cannot believe that this part of our lives is quickly coming to a close. Also, like many of you, I will sorely miss the lack of responsibility we had as students. These six years for me, with the exception of the first two, have been incredibly rewarding. I came in as a twenty-three year old fresh out of college, and I am leaving as a twenty-nine year old that might be developing arthritis.

Looking on the bright side, prior to graduating, I would tell people that I was unemployed, broke, and that I had a six figure debt. Now I can proudly state that I am a doctor, a lawyer, I make about ten dollars an hour, and my debt has increased due to compound interest.

Thank you to my family, friends, and Maria for all of your support.
I am a firm believer that hard work, determination and obtaining a good education help build character and lead to success.

To my three children Rhojonda, Cynesha and John, Jr.:

Throughout this long, tough ordeal you all have been my greatest motivation and inspiration. I love you. Stay sweet and continue to do great things.

As I am looking at the page of a new chapter, I am very much excited of the prospects that hints on that page. But before the page turn, I like to remember the not so simple script that brought me here. I remember the joys and challenges that were shared especially with my other half—Gregory Dietrich who was incredibly patient and supportive. I remember my family who too were very supportive throughout the saga. And I remember my friends who made the journey with me forever memorable. Thank you all for being there throughout this journey.
"First I would like to thank my Mom and Dad for loving and supporting me in everything I do, without you two nothing would have been possible. To Mary and Gianna: thank for your love and generosity. You make everyday in my life special. I love you. I thank my brothers George and Frank for their guidance and inspiration. I thank my grandmother, Harmony, for her unconditional love. The Duczkowski's: thank you for your kindness and welcoming me into your family. My classmates, you made Medical school fun and exciting. I look forward to working with all of you again as colleagues."
I thank my husband, Jason, for his love, support and most importantly his humor over the past 4 years. It was on a rare occasion that I ever felt the stress of medical school; your friendship and love have allowed me to realize that medicine is just a part of my life, and that you and our family are my life. I also thank my parents, my sisters, Teresa and Monica, and my brothers, Mike, Matt, and Timmy for their continued support and love. The fact that your lives always seemed more hectic and crazier than mine, made med school feel like a piece of cake! I thank all my friends for always wanting to eat, drink, and socialize! But most importantly, the single greatest moment I have to look back on these past 4 years, has been the birth of my amazing son, Jason Jr. I love you more than I thought I could ever love anything. I have no words to express the impact you have had on my life.
Time never ceases to amaze me. Looking back on four years of both hard work and great fun, four years replete with feelings of triumph, disappointment, anxiety, exhaustion, self-reward and excitement – I can only say that it has all happened in one profound blink of my eyes.

Thank you to all the special people who have come into and out of my life. Thank you to my close friends who have been there through the good times and the bad. You have all changed me in so many ways, all the while embracing and believing in the real me.

And to my family, the true constant force in my life: words cannot express my gratitude. Only you know that no matter how much I grow, how different I become, I am still the same "Mistu". I will continue to strive for what is good and true as you have always done, and I hope to be there for you as you have always been there for me.

I know that I would not be the same person I am today, if not for the people who have supported me throughout my life. And for this I thank my family... Mom, I am proud of the values you taught me and the love that you gave me. Grandpa, thank you for inspiring me and pushing me this far. Jim, Sue, Mike, Paul, and Kathy, how could anyone ask for better siblings? Dad and Grandma, you'll never be forgotten and always loved. My girlfriend, Katie, for her sweet smile and her love, thanks sweetheart. All of my friends at UMDNJ-SOM, thanks, getting through medical school would have been impossible without all the support, knowledge, and friendship we shared. Always be proud. Never be satisfied. Best wishes to all...

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to all the people who have inspired me and supported me throughout medical school. First, I want to thank my fiancé, Lori, who has always been there for me, no matter how much of my time was taken up by studying. I love you. Thanks next to my parents, who even visited the anatomy lab to see my cadaver, and to my brother Andrew, who became my practice patient for OMT. Thank you to my dog, Duke, who always cheers me up. As my medical school years come to a close and my career as a physician begins, I cannot help to reflect upon the individuals that have had an impact on my life throughout this time. Mom and Dad, you have always been there for me as long as I can remember and I consider myself truly blessed for the gifts of love, generosity, and guidance you have provided me with throughout my whole life. You have instilled in me the values needed to not only become a compassionate physician but a noble individual as well. I could not imagine making it this far without you and I can only hope that I have the same impact on my children that you have had on me.

The friendships that I have made while attending medical school are powerful and dynamic. I will be forever grateful for the sacrifices you made and the encouragement I received when I needed it the most. As we grow together, know that I will always be there for you. God Bless!
