Osteopathic Oath

I do hereby affirm loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgement and with my skills and ability, keeping in mind always nature’s laws and the body’s inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by art cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

In the presence of this gathering I bind myself to this oath.

My congratulations to the UMDNJ-School of Osteopathic Medicine Class of 2000. As the first graduating class of this new millenium, you follow a tradition of outstanding accomplishment that places you among the elite of the graduating osteopathic medical students. We are very proud of each and every one of you. We also welcome you to our Alumni Association and trust that you will always consider yourself part of our ever growing community.

This is an exciting and challenging time for new physicians. You have learned treatment and prevention modalities unknown to man just a short time ago. As a result of your four years in medical school, you have the skills to carry out the work of the most noble of professions. But medicine, with its daily discoveries, is ever changing. The challenges of conquering such problems as cancer, AIDS, and impairments associated with aging, to name a few, remain before you. In this time of great discovery, you will continue to benefit from invention and innovation to eradicate disease and prevent illness. Although new technology allows you to practice medicine as never before, always remember that the physician's role is to enrich the quality of life for patients so that life is worth living. Remember always, no drug can replace the empathy and healing hands of a well trained, attentive and dedicated physician.

As you enter practice, you will appreciate that you are unique. You are more comprehensively trained by virtue of being osteopathic physicians than any other health care provider. You have the knowledge and skills to pursue the choices you want in the future while being steeped in the long and proud tradition of more than a century of osteopathic care giving skills.

Our best wishes and congratulations to you. I wish you success in all of your professional endeavors.

UMDNJ-SOM ARTICULATIONS 5
CONGRATULATIONS
GRADUATES!

This is a most exciting time in your osteopathic medical education. Indeed, you have earned the right to be very proud of the many outstanding accomplishments you have attained at SOM. You completed your pre-clinical education and successfully participated in the unique opportunity offered to osteopathic physicians to learn a wide range of skills in a clinical setting. At UMDNJ—School of Osteopathic Medicine, you’ve gained the medical knowledge and skills to prepare you to provide the highest quality health care for your patients.

We wish you the best as you continue your medical careers. We applaud the fact that many of you have chosen to pursue careers in primary care, the traditional stronghold of the osteopathic medical profession. As alumni of UMDNJ-School of Osteopathic Medicine we look forward to maintaining a lifetime association with you.

We personally congratulate each of you on your accomplishments and wish you every success as you go forward in your medical careers.

Sincerely,

The Administration and Faculty

First and foremost, to my mother, father, and beloved brother Angelo:

Angelo: You were the spark that inspired me to begin this journey and the fuel that has been driving my motivation.

I love you Mom and Dad, I miss you much little brother.

Secondly: A great thank you to my circle of friends who have made this difficult journey bearable and enjoyable: DH, VD, FS, MS, AM, PL, CS, JL, CH, MM, and WC.
I dedicate this achievement to all those who made it possible. My utmost gratitude to Oluwatoyin, my beloved wife whose name depicts the state of my family—meaning "Glory be to God." She demonstrated a rare collaboration in the matrimonial settings of our world today.

My beautiful children, Oladeji, Ololade, Olakiitan and Jolaolu lovingly accepted their limited "children’s necessities and luxuries" while I was not working in the last 4 years. I thank them for understanding the principles of delayed gratification.

Next, I salute all whose efforts serve to eliminate unnecessary impediments to human achievements. Finally, I thank God for the gift of curiosity, endurance and the quest for knowledge.

It is hard to fathom that I have ceased to be a student. I suppose now I know what my Dad meant when he described getting a funny feeling each September, as if he should be starting something new. Mom and Dad, you should receive an award because you truly are the greatest parents in the world. I may never have persisted without your unconditional love, encouragement and support. And to Sal, Lisa and Lori, for being not only the best siblings in the world but my best friends too. Thank you for always being understanding of my schedule and for bringing the kids into my life. They always make me smile when things seems unbearable, especially mini-me. Ali. I'm so glad we found each other in the Atrium that day, my best friend, roommate and study-buddy. Lastly, to my fiancé Peter. You've been my rock. I love you always.

First, I would like to thank my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, for lighting my path and inspiring me to achieve. A special thanks to my mother, father and step-dad for their love, support and encouragement; for opening their hearts and believing in me. Dawn, thanks for protecting me and staying by my side always. I miss you.

With all my heart, thanks to Dr. W. - for believing in me; to RS - truly an angel on Earth, you are my inspiration; to LW and family - for never ending your search; to the Class of 2000 - for your friendship, especially; TL, RR, KZ, CJ, SD, AU, SM, PLx2 and JD.

To DMW - mon prince, merci pour m’aider a trouver 100 moyens, je jamais n’ai avant su l’amour comme ceci.
Thank you to my entire family - for without your love, support, washing machine and dog-sitting, none of this would have been possible.

Top cop, Feinstein, Karolak, Noodles, Mojo, PSH - Thanks for always providing me with distraction from studying. Never lose touch.

AMV - Thanks for so many amazing memories, you will always hold a special place in my heart. - AMLF

A special thanks to Zoie for always wagging her tail, regardless of what mood I was in.

Best of luck Class of 2000 . . .

"To become an authentic person means to be open to our intuition, the part of us that knows. Decisions based on cold reason alone are usually made to satisfy others. Intuitive decisions make us feel good, even if others think we are crazy. But as we become authentic, we no longer worry about what others think."
— Elizabeth Kübler-Ross

Mom and Dad, all the gifts you have given me throughout my life have made this day possible. Through your experience, I have wisdom. Through your patience, I learned maturity. And through your actions, I know unconditional love.

Fred, Alicia and Michelle, you have been a constant source of inspiration and strength.

To all my friends, I never expected medical school to be such fun. Without you, I may have done better in school, but I wouldn’t trade that for all the memories. Best wishes to all.
Four years have flown by so quickly!

To my parents and my brother: You can’t pick which family you are born into. I am very thankful and fortunate to have you. It is your faith in me, encouragement, guidance and unconditional love that has made me into the person I am today. Thank you for everything. I love you very much.

To all my wonderful friends: Both scholastically and mentally, the last four years would have been impossible without you! I cherish all our memories and look forward to the good times ahead.

To my classmates: It has been a pleasure to work with you the last four years. I’m proud to graduate with you and call you my colleagues. I wish you all happiness and success in the future.

It’s been a long four years, but we’re finally physicians.
Look out world, we’re making our incisions.
But if you find yourself consumed with patient and paperwork woes,
Stop to sip a mint julep and enjoy the sand between your toes.

To my husband, Bob,
I love you. You (and the puppies) have made the last four years bearable. Whenever I was in doubt, you were always there to encourage and support me. Thank you for continued patience, love and support.

To my family,
I love you. Without your continued guidance and support over the years, I never would have made it where I am today. Thank you for always being there and allowing me the freedom to make my own decisions, even when you thought I was making a mistake. Graduating is not only my accomplishment, but yours as well.
Thanks to Mom, Dad, and my bro’ Rob for your love and support.

Thanks to my friends for making med school like 4 more years of college. “Now, some of us may be leaving. And that is sad. But it isn’t the end. No way. We’re gonna show this world a thing or two. We’re gonna show . . . .” (Tommy Boy)

Hi, I'm Paul Lanfranchi. You might remember me from such classes as MET-Rx 101, How to Shrink Any Shirt Two Full Sizes, and The Joy of Eating Chicken and Yams. I would like to thank all who made this possible: My Love Debbie, my family, Kid Block, Mojo, Noodles, the "Stein" Brothers, the MIBs, Homer J, and Flanagan. You're all top shelf! I wish everyone the best of luck in their future endeavors. Never forget to seek happiness first, for it is the key of life. Undoubtedly our class was the BEST to ever graduate from SOM. Well, it's time for me to lace up my Top Cops and hit the hospital floor. Good night everyone, thanks for coming, and please be sure to tip your waiters and waitresses on your way out. UMDNJ-SOM Football Rules!
Mom and Dad—
Thank you for your emotional and financial support these past twenty-five years. I could not have made it this far without the two of you!

I love you both!

To Mom, Dad, Brian and Jill:

Thank you for always believing in me and for never allowing me to give up. None of this would have been possible without all of your love, understanding and support. I owe it all to you.
To start, I want to thank Darryl for loving me more than life itself!! Thanks to my parents, and brothers for their unconditional love and support. Thanks also to the Loricks for loving me as their own. And, special love to my high school gircle and SOM Buddies.

And finally, a deep thought--

"Even after you’ve made your plans, paid your dues and LIFE HAPPENS! It’s gotta happen to someone and today it just happened to be your lucky day! So, shrug it off and let the good times roll!"
It’s hard to believe that we’re finally here.

Just a few years ago, this moment was just a vision, a goal. Now as I embark on a new mission in life, I realize that I could never be where I am today without the support and prayers of my loved ones. So to all of you who have helped me in my endeavors, I say, Thank you!

To my classmates:
As we go through life, we will have the opportunity to hold some of the world’s most precious gifts. The finest treasures that there is. But the greatest gift of all is to know that you can look back and show that you were loved!

We only have one life to live... enjoy it! Good luck and best wishes.
Thanks to my family, especially my parents Joe and Carla, for your untiring love and support during these four years and throughout my entire life. I could not have achieved this dream nor be the man that I am without you both. Thank you for being the most wonderful parents a son could have. To Anne, thank you for standing by my side through the good and the bad. The love that we share and the life we are building together makes this accomplishment in my life so much more meaningful.

I realize how lucky I am to have had such loving and devoted parents. Dad, thanks for your continued support and motivation. Your daily reminders of “eat right, dress warmly, and hang in there,” kept me smiling. Mom, you have always been my best friend and strongest advocate. I appreciate all your love and assistance, not to mention the home-cooked meals and free boarding the last 4 years. Will you still proofread my papers for me?

Jeannie: My greatest memories of the last four years all involve you. Swati, Linda, sushi and chai! I wish you the best of luck next year. I’ll miss my favorite Haddonfield neighbor!

John: I am so excited and could not be happier for us! But now, we can’t elope.
To my family: I would not have been able to graduate without your help; I am forever grateful. Special thanks to my mother who changed her life to make my dreams come true. Thanks to my husband, Chris for his love and support, and to my daughter Julie for showing me what happiness is really about.

I love you Mommy and Papa. I never would have been able to do this without your love and support. I'm truly blessed to have you as my parents. Papa - thank you for teaching me the importance of working and playing hard. I hope I can become as great a doctor as you. You're truly an inspiration. Mommy - thank you for listening and encouraging me to do my best. You are the most beautiful woman in the world in every aspect of your life. Bobby - you are very brave and slightly crazy for becoming a pilot. You're definitely the Christopher Columbus of the family, and though you know who the smartest in the family is, I forgive you for thinking you are. Rahul - the sweetest and most precious family member, you've grown up so fast! I remember changing your diapers! Jeannie, I'm glad you'll be part of the family. Angela, Jay and Mr. Vuotto, thank you for everything.

Mommy, Mirie, Neatie – Thanks for all of your love, support and encouragement. Now you can put it in the “Democrat,” I love you guys so much! You are my strength!

Daddy – The journey was long, but I’m finally here! You were always so proud of me. I’ll know that you’ll always be with me.

T.S. – My soulmate… Thank you for always being there. Thanks for the constant emotional and spiritual support. You make me so happy! You have made the last two years so wonderful. You are wonderful!

Al, Gwen, Jill – Thank you for everything! Al, you have been especially great! Thank you for your friendship and my beautiful goddaughter.

Y2K Brats – We have now realized our raison d’etre. Now we can finally get to the joie de vivre!
Without you I would be lost. Thank you for everything. I love you.

To my dearest husband, Eric, the love of my life: Your love and support has meant to me more than words will ever be able to express. With every year and passing day our love deepens and I look forward to sharing the rest of my life with you.

To my Mommy – Dr. DO has arrived! You have been my strength throughout this rollercoaster of a ride-medical school, and I’m grateful for your many pep talks. You were right, “Your baby could do anything she set her mind to.”

To my Daddy – Thank you for allowing me to spread my wings and set my own course in life. My decisions haven’t always been easy ones, but knowing you were behind me has meant so much.

Dr. Warren Wallace – You changed my life and I will never forget you. Mahalo.
Becoming a doctor is one of my greatest achievements. I have worked hard and made sacrifices to reach this goal. I did not do this alone, however, and would like to say THANK YOU to some special people who have helped me acquire those two letters I will now write under my name. Thank you...to my family and friends for your never ending support and love; to Andrea for being a great roommate and wonderful friend; To Rich for keeping me grounded and taking care of my heart; Special thanks to Dad and Barbara for their encouragement; and to Mom for being my inspiration from the very beginning.

Thanks to:

Mom and Dad for your unrequited love and support,

Vipul & Sapna for your always sound advice;

Sachin for bringing joy to our family;

Rashmi for trusting me with your heart; and all my friends for making medical school enjoyable.
First and foremost, I'd like to thank my mother and father for teaching me what it means to chase your dreams until they become a reality. Without them, I wouldn't be writing this. My sister picked me up when I fell and cleaned me up. She also showed me the meaning of responsibility. I am proud to be her little brother and her son's godfather. Hala, thank you for being there. I'll always be there for you. Without my friends, I wouldn't have laughed as hard, smiled so wide, or have graduated from medical school. Mike, Bill, Paul, Dave, Larry, Mark and everybody else that made me smile and feel good about giving UMDNJ lots of money for 4 years. Thanks to my childhood friends - Shane, Mike, Scott, Brian, Chris and TJ, Woody went over the falls in a barrel! Leslie, thank you for coming into my life and giving me motivation to succeed.

THANK YOU! Mom, Dad, Vecmamma, Lora and Michael, Andi, Joanne and Caitlin, Rob – my husband and best friend, my roommates, twins, and all family and friends. All of you have helped me to become what I am today and will continue to shape me in the future. I love you all, and each and every one of you is very special to me.

I found a quote years ago, and although times can get tough, it is a great motto to live by: “Look for the good, and you will always find it.”

So many memories over the past four years, there were times of joy as well as tears. We stuck together, we made it through, we’re the class of 2000, me and you! Best of luck to all!
Dear Fellow Y2K Grads,

Let us first say that it has been a phenomenal four years! It was an honor and a pleasure being a part of this class, and especially being a part of the Y2K yearbook committee. You have made these past four years indelible by sharing with us those treasured memories that have made the yearbook what it is. We appreciate that, and we appreciate all of the help we have received.

We would like to thank Dean Micciche and Veronica Coia for all of their support and guidance during a very challenging, but totally fulfilling experience. We couldn’t have done it without them. Kudos to the yearbook committee, especially to Paul Lanfranchi and Chris Heitzman for their creative touches and their inexhaustible diligence. More than one-third of the Class of 2000 participated in compiling the Y2K yearbook, and to you guys go a special thanks. Such participation only shows how powerful we are in unity.

As we shed our short white coats and don long ones, we will always look back at these times with fondness and know that many of these memories can be found immortalized in this yearbook. We are the first SOM class of the millennium! We are the new doctors of the 21st century, so let us take on the yoke and be the best Osteopathic physicians that we can be! Affirm that we will provide the best care and attention to our patients. We wish you all the best of every good thing. We wish you love, health, happiness and success as you pursue your various fields of study. Let medicine become your raison d’etre! Now on to the joie de vivre!

Yours as ever,

Rengena and Virginia
